

What is Natural?

The Miessence definition of Natural:

Existing in, or formed by nature; not artificial.

The Cosmetic Industry definition of Natural:

Any ingredient "derived from" a natural substance.

With so many "natural" products on the market, how can you tell the real thing? We often see long chemical names followed by the phrase "derived from coconut oil". For example, to create cocoamide DEA from coconut oil requires the use of the carcinogenic synthetic chemical diethanolamine (DEA). It is therefore no longer natural and to insinuate it is a natural substance by adding the phrase "from coconut oil" is at best misleading. Just because vodka can be derived from potatoes, doesn't mean it's good for you!

What is Organic?

The Miessence definition of Organic:

Grown, cultivated and processed without the use of synthetic chemicals such as insecticides, herbicides and fumigants.

The Cosmetic Industry definition of Organic:

Any compound containing carbon.

This is the organic chemistry definition. Carbon is found in anything that ever lived. So, by using this definition of organic we could say that the toxic petrochemical preservative methyl paraben is "organic" because it was formed by leaves that rotted over thousands of years to become the crude oil used to make this toxic preservative.

What is Certified Organic?

Certified organic is an independent third party guarantee of an "organic" claim. Certified organic products must comply with stringent international standards that cover all aspects of the processing chain to ensure that the organic integrity is maintained from seed, growing, harvesting, storage, transporting and processing through to the finished product.

We are proud that that the Miessence skin care bears the seals of approval of the worlds most stringent certifying bodies.

Imagine

Products where every single ingredient is beneficial to your skin's health...

Where not only is every ingredient safe (in fact, edible) but every ingredient does something great for your skin... right down to the preservatives and antioxidants.

Products that really are the best they could be, without the hype...

So full of natural goodness that not only do the ingredient lists read like something delicious, but you can actually feel their energy and vitality feeding your skin.

Products that guarantee organic integrity...

With no unsubstantiated claims, hype, or questions about authenticity and integrity. Products with the stamp of approval of an internationally recognised independent third-party – guaranteeing that the product is certified organic.

Products that utilise only certified organic cold-pressed and unrefined oils and therapeutic grade herb and flower extracts...

Freshly pressed from certified organic fruit, nut, or seed, retaining all the vitamins, minerals, and other bioactive nutrients.

Products that are cold-formulated, so precious oils are never exposed to damaging heat...

Superior quality active ingredients, unaltered by heat and synthetic emulsifiers.

Products that actually made a difference to the wellbeing of your skin...

Attracting favourable comments such as: "What are you doing to your skin, you look great", "Your skin tone looks so much healthier", "You look sensational, what are you using?"

Experience

The Energy of Pure Organic Ingredients

All Miessence products are energised with the vitality of clean (pesticide-free) and potent, certified organic fruit, nut, seed, herb and flower extracts.

Organically grown products are known to contain more vitamins, nutrients, and cancer-fighting anti-oxidants than their conventionally grown counterparts.

The Living Vitality of Bioactive Cold Process

Miessence ingredients that are cold-extracted from organic fruit, nuts, seeds and herbs are never exposed to heat during formulation.

Miessence products are prepared via a revolutionary cold process, resulting in superior quality active ingredients that retain all the vitamins, minerals, and other bioactive nutrients. Our unique manufacturing process results in significant quantities of bio-available nutrients to literally feed your skin.

The Potency of 100% Beneficial Ingredients

Every ingredient in every certified organic Miessence product is beneficial for the skin. Every ingredient in every certified organic Miessence product is active.
